Remove the negative and discover the brutal charm of the European capitals' suburbia !

Hidden Cities: Berlin

Hidden Cities: London

Hidden Cities: Moscow

Hidden Cities: Warsaw

Modernist housing estates erected in the suburbs of European cities after WW2 have been ignored and neglected for decades. Although they are homes to the vast majority of urbanites, many would rather they were invisible. This instant film inspired photo set allows you to unveil some of the most hidden and controversial urbanscapes of the former Eastern Bloc and beyond.

Hidden Cities by Zupagrafika are interactive photo boxes including 8 architecture snapshots to unveil and a foreword on post-war modernist estates. Images come from Zupagrafika's archive, with contributions by photographers Alexander Veryovkin and Peter Chadwick.

Negatives are reusable: they can be removed and repositioned repeatedly.
